

HLS Maintains the Beauty of New Territory

As a master planned community New Territory has a quality of landscaping not seen in a normal community setting. Recently Dr. Todd Watson, a well known Horticulturist, was brought in by the members of Board of Directors for New Territory to evaluate the property. His findings were not surprising, and confirmed what David Dykeman, Maintenance Director of HLS Enterprises, has strived to achieve for the last eight years. Dr. Watson stated on several occasions that the community looked very nice and was well maintained. New Territory has won awards on numerous occasions for promoting, protecting and preserving the heritage of beauty for all future generations.
